Our Next Meeting – 8 PM – June 13, 2008

Astronomers in History; This month's program will be lead by Bob Salvatore. As in past years, he will be passing along information on astronomers and other scientists who have added to astronomy. Many of these people and their accomplishments have initiated informative and sometimes even comical discussions.

Highlights of the Last Meeting

Contributed by Sarah Waters

At the May meeting we were busy preparing for Astronomy Day that was held the next day at the OCC College Center. We confirmed all the presentations that were to take place and everyone talked with their partners to tie up loose ends. After the break everyone helped move the furniture around so we didn't have to worry about it the next morning. Our junior Astronomers Kyle and Jordan were fantastic moving all the tables and chairs in the meeting room and in the cafeteria. Now that is a lot of tables and chairs.

Jordan won an Astronomy video tape set that was donated by Rich Brady. Thank you Rich, and congratulations Jordan. If you have an item you think would be a fun give away, donations are always welcome.

As always people mingled and caught up with each other. Rich Gamba gave us an update on the Planetarium project. We are all very excited that the equipment choice has been approved by the college and should be ordered soon. The Planetarium has been fully cleared out. Gloria has been relocated to another building but can be reached at the same number. Renovation plans for the building are still being worked out so we will wait for an update when it moves further. It took a lot of hard work to go from permanent closure to where the project is today. Congratulations and Thank You to everyone that made it happen.

I will not be at the June or July meetings so Rich Gamba will be running them. See you at the picnic.

Astronomy Day 2008

Contributed by Sarah Waters

On May 10th we had another fun filled Astronomy Day. There was a great Public turnout and a good number of ASTRA members on hand to help out as well. Bob Salvatore set up a number of telescopes in the solar lounge for people to ask questions about. Wally had some binoculars and advice on getting started in Astronomy. Rich Fink set up a table-top telescope and also helped out a visitor with their own new telescope. Joe demonstrated the "Fabric of Space" which is always a hit with all the marbles. Rich Mackiewicz provided three different slide shows throughout the day.

Gene Russo, John and Ed set up the solar scopes outside, but the clouds prevented any observing. The moon crater demonstration kept them busy outside while they hoped for some sun. Gene also "cooked-up" a few Comets with some help from the audience. Our own junior Astronomer Arielle helped one of the times. Ro Spedaliere had a raffle area for the Telescope and Star-Finder donated by Gene. Thank you Gene for those great items.

Gloria and Emmet Villalobos were busy out in the hall with all the fun items to purchase from the Planetarium. They also had a table with free items to take.

In the cafeteria Maryanne Fink and Coleen took care of the drinks and food. I had a table with a computer program about the stars running, my celestial globe and a few books. My husband Rich, watched over everything while I ran around. My Mom Leigh Murphy and niece Erin ran the Coloring table providing many people with pictures and games to take home. The Tattoo table was a hit with Hannah Gamba and Kaitlyn Shive putting tattoos on people as quick as they possibly could.

The Save the Planetarium Fund, Inc. table was watched over by Rich, Peggi and Adam Gamba, displaying trinkets for the groups coming out of the Star Lab to take. They were selling plants donated by Marge and Rich Brady to raise more funds for the planetarium. They also sold "I'm Helping to Save the Planetarium" T-shirts and Bears to add to the $45,000 already raised, thanks to the matching gift donor and fundraising over the last year.

The big hit of the day was the Star Lab provided by Gloria. Phil Zollner and Theresa St. Angelo ran shows all day with a full group each time. Theresa's son, Rich helped watch the entrance and direct the traffic. An astronomy student of Rich Brady spent the entire day in the dome helping with the kids and providing music with her laptop, after she helped set-up the dome in the morning.

With the clouds hanging around all day we were very uncertain about the night-time observing. Making the call to hold the night observing at the last minute, we lucked-out when the skies became crystal clear just before sunset. Rich Gamba, Bob Salavatore, Randy Walton, my brother Bill, my niece Erin and I set up our scopes for about 175 people that came back that night. Gloria and Emmet were still inside selling fun items as a few people would return to the scopes with glowing earrings and trinkets.

We all went home exhausted around 11:00 but as always it was well worth all the effort.

ASTRA members did a wonderful job!

Thank You Everyone for all your help and support in making the day a wonderful success.

Save the Planetarium Fund, Inc.

www.SavethePlanetarium.org

A non-profit charity has been established to help save the Novins Planetarium at Ocean County College. The only planetarium that was open to the public in central New Jersey. This is your chance to pitch in. There will be signs to take to libraries or businesses, and business cards to give to anyone that may help at the meeting.
